

The Adair County News.

VOLUME XII

COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 6, 1909.

NUMBER 48

From Rev. A. R. Kasey.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 1, 1909.
Editor News:

I am getting homesick, and when a fellow gets homesick I guess he's got a right to write home.

My leaving Columbia was a more trying ordeal than might be supposed. But the pain of separation is the toll of love, and the devotion of my friends made this toll doubly heavy. The thought of how my congregation sacrificed to pay me even more than they promised quickens a gratitude that is increased, I think, the material and fraternal blessings I have received from the members of the other churches, as well as from my Masonic brethren and the community at large. I shall not pay to be sent to a better people, among kinder or more constant friends. I feel that I could not be. Blessings on them all.

Conference is in full swing. Delegates to the General conference will be elected today. I have constant inquiries about Columbia. It is the universal opinion that it is the best inland town in the state—I tell 'em to wait 'till they see Russell's big store and our new walks.

Gov. Hindman is having a good time among the brethren—they all love him very much.

Bishop Hoss is a delightful president. He still shows marks of his long and severe illness.

There is strong opposition to admitting uneducated men into the conference, especially where they are approaching middle age. Peace and harmony prevail.

A. K. Kasey.

Nice Work.

Mr. Jo Zinniger, of Louisville, who is employed by Hinrich Bros. & Wellendorf, dealers in carpets, picture frames, draperies, wall paper, etc., Market street, spent last week in Columbia, superintending the residence of Gov. J. R. Hindman. Mrs. Hindman was in Louisville a few weeks ago and purchased the paper from the above named firm, arranging with it to have the paper put on her rooms. Mr. Zinniger thoroughly understands the business, and will complete the job to-day which has been handsomely done. Hinrich Bros. & Wellendorf are very reliable and highly appreciate the trade they receive from this section of the State. This firm has been carrying an "ad" for this paper for several years.

Notice.

At the regular election for Adair county, Ky., held on the 24th day of November, 1909, at the regular polling place, in voting district No. 1, said county, known as the West Columbia voting district, a poll will be opened and an election held, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters of said district upon the question whether or not they wish cattle or any species thereof to run at large in said district. This election will be held and this notice is given by virtue of an order of the Adair county court, made at a term of said court held on the 24th day of August, 1909. W. B. Patterson, Sheriff of Adair county, Ky.

Wanted: Butcher, at the Lindsey-Wilson. Will pay $20 per pound. Neilson & Moss.

Got Seven Years.

The trial of Major Nelson, of color, charged with detaining a woman, came to close last Tuesday afternoon about 6 o'clock. The jury was out only a few minutes after the conclusion of the arguments, bringing in a verdict for confinement in the penitentiary for seven years. Sentence was immediately passed by Judge Baker, and as soon as a team could be hooked to a vehicle Deputy Sheriff Patterson left for Frankfort with the prisoner. The State was represented by County Attorney Smythe, Rollin Hurt and James Garrett. The defendant by Messrs. Robinson and L. C. Winfrey. Mr. Robinson being from Louisville.

Shot in the Face.

Last Saturday week old man Stucky, who lives on Tennessee River, in Casey county, just over the Adair line, was shot in the face by two men named Brown. Some one had set fire to Mr. Stucky's hay and oats. The old man went to Nottelville in this county and secured bloodhounds from Mr. J. A. Harden and the dogs took the trail and went direct to the Brown boys house, old man Stucky was with the dogs and when he reached the house he was fired upon, a load of shot striking him in the face. The Brown boys then made their escape and some think they have left the country while others believe they are hiding in Adair county. Mr. Stucky was not seriously hurt, but it will be several weeks before his face gets well.

J. K. P. Conover.

The above picture is a good likeness of Mr. J. K. P. Conover, who is an independent Republican candidate for jailer of Adair county, to be voted for at the November election. Mr. Conover was born and reared within a mile and a quarter of Columbia, and is well known throughout the county as an honest, courteous gentleman. Some years ago he was elected and served the people of this county as jailer. During the term he was watchful, and when his time expired he had the satisfaction of knowing, by expressions from the people, that he had filled the office to the satisfaction of every voter in the county.

He again asks for the position, promising that if he is elected to make a good, faithful officer. In the next few weeks Mr. Conover hopes to see as many voters as possible in Adair county. He solicits votes and will be thankful for the support he may receive.

Mr. Hugh Noe, of this place, who has been driving a couple of ponies, got into a wreck at Tompkinsville a few days ago. One of the ponies got scared and the team started at a rapid gait. They ran into another team, wrenching one of the wheels from Mr. Noe's buggy, throwing the ponies, hurting them considerably. Mr. Noe sold the pony that started the trouble, bought another horse, and returned home.

Notice.

At the regular election for Adair county, Ky., held on the 24th day of November, 1909, at the regular polling place, in voting district No. 13, of said county, known as the Cal Valley voting district, a poll will be opened and an election held, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters of said district upon the question whether or not they wish cattle or any species thereof to run at large in said district. This election will be held and this notice is given by virtue of an order of the Adair county court, made at a term of said court held on the 24th day of August, 1909. W. B. Patterson, Sheriff of Adair county, Ky.

Mr. Luther Wilmore has exhibited at this office an old Spanish fifty cents coin dated 1781, making it 128 years old. The coin was found on the old Jonathan Jones farm about three months ago. This is perhaps the oldest piece of money in the county.

Good Shooting.

Mr. Cy Wheat, who lives in the Fair-play county, has had unusual luck in squirrel hunting. In the last two months he has killed over two hundred of eight hickory trees. Mr. Jo A. Turner, who resides in the same neighborhood, has shot one hundred shots at squirrels, killing ninety-eight. The above record is hard to beat.

PUBLIC SALE.

On Wednesday, October 20th, I will sell at public auction, at my farm one mile from Lebanon, Ky., 29 head of horses, consisting of brood mares, yearlings colts and fillies, and two pairs of good work mules, 14 head of yearling sugar mules, several jacks and young jacks, one 6-year old jack, and 1 good one, cat, hogs, etc. A good offering of extra good stock.
Date, Oct. 20, 1909.
JOHN H. WARREN
Lebanon, Ky.

For Watkins, removers, etc., see Box 200, Montgomery or L. P. H. in Columbia, Ky., or Porter, Murray, Graycraft, Willie Huchison, cane Valley. You can see me on the square every Monday and every Saturday.

Paid Promptly.

This is to certify that J. E. Murrell, agent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, has this day paid me one thousand dollars, the amount of insurance my late husband, E. G. Atkins, carried in said company, August 1, 1909. Mrs. L. W. Atkins.

Those who want insurance are requested to call and see me, at the News office. The Connecticut Mutual is one of the oldest companies in existence, pays large dividends and meets its holders' policy. Cash value is given to holders if they want to surrender their policy at the end of each year. All to gain, nothing to lose.
J. E. Murrell.

To The Ladies.

Mrs. Lou W. Atkins and her assistants have been busy for the past week getting ready for Mrs. Atkins' millinery opening which will be next Saturday. She has purchased a very attractive line of hats which will be trimmed in the very latest style. Her place of business is in the room formerly occupied by the Misses Rubank. Do not fail to visit this store, next Saturday.

Smith & McBeath will operate the Russell Creek Mill same as before, making the same grade of flour, and will exchange the same grade of flour at both places for wheat. They are now ready to receive wheat at the highest market price, and will keep flour for sale at all times. 45-4t.

We desire to return our grateful thanks to the many friends of this paper who reside at Bardonia, Amanda-ville, Beck's Store, Burkeville and other points in Cumberland county. The News largely circulates at the above named places, and the patronage we have received is due to the efforts of Mr. James Cole, who has been a friend to the paper for many years. We have made arrangements for correspondents and hope to make the News more interesting to the people of Cumberland county than heretofore. Mr. Cole has placed on our subscription list in the last eighteen months, 106 names.

Notice.

At the regular election for Adair county, Ky., held on the 24th day of November, 1909, at the regular polling place, in voting district No. 14, of said county, known as the Eggry voting district, a poll will be opened and an election held, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters of said district upon the question whether or not they wish cattle or any species thereof to run at large in said district. This election will be held and this notice is given by virtue of an order of the Adair county court, made at a term of said court held on the 24th day of August, 1909. W. B. Patterson, Sheriff of Adair county, Ky.

The old gray mare which was owned by Mr. R. F. Paul, died last Saturday. She was twenty-six years old and had raised nineteen colts, leaving one four months old, making twenty that she had raised. Mr. Paul sold 16 of the colts at intervals realizing $2,800 for them. The other four are on his farm.

Foxes Wanted.

I want five red and grey foxes. Will pay $1.50 to $2.50 and express charges.
46-4t. Box 232, Campbellville, Ky.

Mr. Geo. F. Stultz killed a rare bird for this section last Thursday. It is a few that lives upon fish, and is known as the Cannon Haron. It was on a pond back of Mr. Stultz home when killed.

G. B. Smith is now grinding by steam.

Visit to Greensburg.

Last Saturday a representative of the News desiring to see the game between Louisville and Greensburg, and also to meet friends in the latter named place, started early, in company with Mr. Ernest Flowers, and was on the grounds when the game was called. Greensburg did not expect to be victorious, going up against a team of the American Association which had just won the pennant, but they wanted the pleasure of meeting the aggregation which had been crowned with such distinguished honor.

Several hundred people witnessed the game, the Greensburg boys doing remarkably well, every thing considered, though they failed to score. The Louisville team played as though it was up against professionals, making eight scores, and when the contest closed the Greensburg boys were highly complimented for their batting, pitching, catching and fielding.

Before and after the game the News representative took a stroll around town, meeting a number of friends that he had not seen for several years, all of whom did everything in their power to make his visit pleasant. The merchants, huckster and other business men were on the move, indicating that trade was lively. The hotel was also well patronized and every body was in the finest of spirits.

Greensburg has improved considerably in the last ten years. Quite a number of new buildings have been erected and the streets have been greatly improved.

While in Greensburg the News man called and was made acquainted with Mr. Lapsley Wilson, who is an enterprising citizen, now engaged in the drug business. He has a very inviting store and enjoys a lucrative trade. Mr. Wilson is known to a great many Columbians where he was principally educated and where he was an assistant in the M. and F. College for a term or two. He has a great deal to say of the pleasure he enjoyed while temporarily sojourning here.

The Record office was also visited. Mr. Ward was busy, but he took time to make the News man's visit exceedingly pleasant.

A proposition to establish a graded school has also carried at Greensburg. The school advocates won by a majority of 85 out of 117 votes.

Mr. John A. Hobson, one of the leading merchants, had many nice things to say of the people of Adair county.

More could be written of the people of this historic old town, but it is necessary to close.

Notice.

At the regular election for Adair county, Ky., held on the 24th day of November, 1909, at the regular polling place, in voting district No. 8, of said county, known as the Glenview voting district, a poll will be opened and an election held, for the purpose of ascertaining the will of the voters of said district upon the question whether or not they wish cattle or any species thereof to run at large in said district. This election will be held and this notice is given by virtue of an order of the Adair county court, made at a term of said court held on the 24th day of August, 1909. W. B. Patterson, Sheriff of Adair county, Ky.

J. Nick Conover made the following sales last week: Three calves to George Hunt for $55.10; Two steers to Tom Hunt for $55.65; Six heifers to L. W. Bennett for $152; two cows to Owen Hardesty for $75; three cows to W. H. Gil for $83.

Mr. Henry Willis, son of Mr. Buck Willis, this place, bought of Mr. Walker Bryant, last Friday, the farm known as the W. J. Atkins farm, near town, for $4,000. Possession will be given the first of January.

The Adair County Co-operation meeting of the Christian Church will be held at Raley on Friday night before the fifth Sunday in October and continue over Sunday. Program will appear later.

Mr. W. F. Jeffries, Secretary of the Macabees of this town, has paid Mrs. Lou W. Atkins one thousand dollars, the amount of insurance her late husband carried in said order.

We were in error last week when we stated that Sheriff W. B. Patterson was able to leave his room. It will be remembered that he was badly bitten by a hog, and he is still confined to his bed.

S. F. Woods the practical painter and natural wood finisher, of Lebanon, has accepted the foremanship on the lumberhouse store rooms of Mr. J. O. Russell.

Big Mill Trade.

Mr. Hannibal McBeath, of Wayne county, reached Columbia last week and on Wednesday he purchased of Mr. W. R. Myers the Roller mill and grounds attached for $10,000. Mr. McBeath sold Mr. G. B. Smith a one-half interest, purchasing from Mr. Smith a one-half interest in the Russell's Creek mill, near town, thus consolidating the milling business of Columbia. The new firm is now in possession.

Mr. McBeath is a most excellent citizen and himself and family will become residents of Columbia, and for the present will occupy the Garnett homestead, on the hill, in the east portion of the town. His family will reach here about the first of November and will be given a cordial welcome.

Mr. Smith is well known to the people of Adair county, as a gentleman of excellent character and standing.

Mr. E. Moore, one of Russell county's best young men, is now traveling for the Read Phosphate Co., Nashville, Tenn. Adair county is his territory and he will canvass it. He is perfectly reliable and we believe he will build up a good trade.

We desire to return our heartfelt thanks to those who so kindly waited upon our dear son and brother, Russell, during his illness, terminating in death. Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Kinnard, and Children.

Mr. R. M. Bass is an independent Republican. Candidate for the office of Jailer of Cumberland county. He is a fine citizen and would make a good officer. He solicits the support of the voters of Cumberland county. 1t

In last week's News we announced that Miss Lina Rosenfield had been elected Librarian at the Lindsay Wilson. Miss Martha Hancock was also chosen and the two young ladies are in charge, dividing time.

W. C. Pickett, blind uncle of Esquire Geo. W. Pickett, is in Columbia visiting friends and relatives and shaking hands with his many friends. This is his first visit here for twelve years.

The Graded School is moving along nicely. The attendance up to this time has gone beyond the expectation of the principal.

The list of pupils in the Lindsey-Wilson is rapidly growing. By the middle of October the building will be well-filled.

L. B. Cain sold to J. C. Dohoney 10 head of steers for $31; Owen Hardesty 18 head from $21 to $31 cent; One mule to S. V. Wilkerson for $70.

The all day meeting and singing at Zion, appointed for next Sunday, has been called off on account of sickness.

For Sale—One 4-year old bay horse in good condition. Ray Flowers, Columbia, Ky.

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hulse fell, hurting her head very badly, one day last week.

Tim Cravens sold a combined bay gelding to Mackin & Phillips, Lebanon, for $200.

Born, to the wife of Dunk Powell, Oct. 4, a daughter; weight 10 pounds.

Mr. J. J. Biggs is now located at Raywick, Ky.

Louisville defeated Greensburg eight to nothing.

How Cooked Lived as the Eskimos Live.

One of the most remarkable features of Dr. Cook's journey was the winter he passed on his return from the north on the south coast of Jones Sound. For many months he and his Eskimos kept themselves alive with the bows and arrows and lances they had fashioned, for they had exhausted their ammunition. They lived in a dugout they made on the coast. Not many years ago no Arctic explorer had the resource to pass successfully through such an ordeal as this. Peary was the first to call attention to this possibility, as he was the first to advocate the application to exploratory enterprise of many of the Eskimo methods of living and working. Dr. Cook was fitted by temperament and physique to live on the country when he was stripped of other resources and to come through it well and hearty. He was made of the stuff that has fitted him pre-eminently for pioneering under the roughest conditions.—From "The North Pole at Last," by Cyrus C. Adams, in the American Review of Reviews for October.

On a request for information from Dr. Ben L. Bruner, Secretary of State, Judge James Breathitt, Attorney General, handed down an opinion holding that any officer in this State, chosen by the vote of the people in a district larger than a county, except members of the General Assembly, must certify his nomination to the Secretary of State. The Secretary of State then shall certify the nomination to the County Clerks of the counties where the nominee is to be voted for and the County Clerks shall see that the name is on the official ballot. Dr. Bruner contended that certificates of nomination of Circuit Judges, Commonwealth Attorneys and other offices where more than one county votes for the candidates must be sent to him for certification to the County Clerks.

Some Recent Tests.

Experiment stations and poultrymen are constantly trying out mooted questions and adding to our stock of knowledge on poultry subjects. For instance early hatched chickens are found to grow more rapidly than the late hatched. As chicks grow old it takes more food to produce a pound of gain. Chicks forced at an early age do not grow so well as they come to maturity. With this there is not full agreement. More chicks die on wet mash than when fed with dry food. Forced moulting is condemned. Eggs produce the highest percentage of chicks in the early spring. A two-ounce egg is now regarded as the standard of size. T. C. K. in Industrious Hen.

Cheer Up!

There's a tariff on sugar,
A tariff on ice,
A tariff on iron,
A tariff on rice,
A tariff on lemons,
A tariff on tea—
But, praise be to Allah,
Salvation's still free!
There's a tariff on razors,
A tariff on soap,
A tariff on leather,
A tariff on rope,
A tariff on coral
That comes from the sea—
But, whoop, hallelujah!
Salvation's still free!

There's a tariff on muskets,
A tariff on nails,
A tariff on wash tubs,
On tin cups and pails;
A tariff on diamonds—
Note Schedule C—
But shout loud, ye mourners!
Salvation's still free!
There's a tariff on pork chops,
A tariff on bread,
A tariff on herrings—
Both live ones and dead:
A tariff on cotton—
See page 33—
But let in the sunshine!
Salvation's still free!

Good Management.

"That widow is a good manager, isn't she?"

"Manager? I should say so. She got that house of hers practically fixed up like new for nothing."

"How did she manage it?"
"She was engaged to a carpenter till all the woodwork was finished, and then she broke it off and married the plumber."

One Man Killed.

A shooting affray at Williams Sidney, in this county last Saturday, resulted in the death of John McKee, and the serious wounding of George Roberts.

The information learned of particulars are meagre. It seems that George Roberts and Oscar Roberts, were into a difficulty with that George Roberts, drawing his pistol, fired at Oscar Roberts the ball cutting through an ear and scalping the neck. Then going on, it struck John McKee in the neck severing the jugular vein and breaking the neck. McKee dropped and died instantly.

Then, it is said, that Oscar Roberts turned and fired at George Roberts striking him in the right breast and inflicting a wound that may prove fatal. McKee, the man who was killed, it is said, was not concerned in the fight but was merely a bystander, and was hit accidentally. He was a married man, having a wife and five children. He was buried at Pine Knot cemetery Monday.

George Roberts is a married man, having a wife and three children. He was brought to the Somerset Sanitarium Sunday where he received medical attention. He is seriously injured and is in a dangerous condition, though he may rally and recover.

Oscar Roberts is a single man. No arrests have yet been made. —Somerset Journal.

Looking Ahead.

"Now that I have provided you with a good dinner," said the kind lady, "will you saw some wood for me?"

"Madam," replied the hobo from Boston, "nothing would afford me more pleasure than abbreviating timber for you, but in behalf of posterity I am compelled to decline."

"But what has posterity got to do with it?" queried the k. l.

"It's like this, madam," explained the self-conducted tourist. "With the revolutions of the whirligig of time my grandchildren may become multi-millionaires, and if their daughters have occasion to purchase titles it will be so much more pleasant for them to be able to say that their great-grandfather was a gentleman of leisure instead of a common wood sawyer."

It's a Top Notch Doc.

Great deeds compel regard. The world crowns its doers. That's why the American people have crowned Dr. King's New Discovery the King of Throat and Lung remedies. Every atom is a health force. It kills germs, and colds and laryngitis vanishes. It heals cough-racked membranes and coughing stops. Sore, inflamed bronchial tubes and lungs are cured and hemorrhages cease. Dr. Geo. More, Black Jack, N. C., writes, "It cured me of lung trouble, pronounced hopeless by all doctors." 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Peul Drug Co.

Gourds Keep Bugs Away.

The Lawrenceburg News says Aunt Sallie Harlow, an old colored woman, who lives just back of the Carl & Duncan establishment was asked one day why it was that she always grew gourd vines over her hen house in summer. Her reply was that she always planted gourd seed near her hennery in the spring to keep off chicken lice. She claims that lice will not stay where the gourd vines grow and that she has tried this remedy for years and has never been bothered with lice since she first tried it.

The greatest trotting meeting in the world begins at Lexington, Ky., on Tuesday, Oct. 5th, and continues ten days. Every day one or more of the historic stake races of Kentucky are contested, and all the races are filled with the best horses from all sections of the country, meeting at Lexington, for the first time this year. There are nearly 700 entries in the 33 races and it will be the greatest meeting ever known. Excursion rates, one fare round trip, will be in effect from all Kentucky points. The best racing and music in the country. Remember the dates, Oct. 5 to 15, and attend.

Test on Fertility of Eggs.

The third or fourth egg laid after being mated will usually prove fertile. The whole clutch of eggs are not fertilized one service of male, but usually several eggs are. Recent experiments have shown that in a case where the male had been removed from the pen four eggs hatched and five more had germs. Other tests do not show so large a number, but the supposition is that the male will fertilize two or three eggs at a service.—Ex.

Outrages of the Telephone.

That the telephone has blessed many a man, saved many a life and helped pile up fortunes is true, but it has not cured some women, ruled some lives and hastened domestic misfortune. It has. Has it not become the favorite pastime of the women with nothing to do? It has. Does it not accelerate gossip and aid the flirt and the wayward constantly? It does. Self-indulgent women waste their husbands' money by ordering food over the too handy telephone rather than bother to dress for the street, thereby losing both their wholesome morning exercise and their chance thriftily to secure the best there is for the price at market or at stores from which the family larder is supplied. The time wasted by women in foolish phoning can never be offset by time gained by foreboding men in business, for what shall it profit a man if he gains the whole world if his "world" is lost through folly?

Telephoning, from a habit, finally becomes a vice and a menace to the courtesies. It has destroyed the fine art of social correspondence. It has crowned Haste with Courtesy's laurel.—Bliss Thomas Antrim in Lippincott's.

Old Names For Guns.

As the use of artillery has become common and the advantages of portability and a greater rapidity of fire were recognized guns, except among the orientals, became smaller, but of better workmanship and construction. Inventors began to try their hands at all sorts of improvements or attempts at improvement, and in the course of a hundred years or so the number of different pieces of cannon, large and small, muske, or breechloading, were simply legion. There were cannon, cannon royal and demi-cannon, three or four classes of culverins, bombardiers, mortars, perriers, serpentes, carthons, cartails, pavoisettes or zebartanas, haubliques, orgues, saunders, alions, molaines, falcons and falconets, rohinets, fowlers, buses, allages, port-pieces, murderers, drakes, aspics, double dogs and lagators, to say nothing of rindogouins, flying dragons and partridge mortars—Gentlemen's Magazine.

A Cutting Retort.

Before dinner, at the house of a rich banker in Florence, Colonel (afterward the Earl of) Dundas had said some sharp things about the crudities of Americans. Notwithstanding this rudeness it fell to his lot to take Mme. Bonaparte (Betsey Patterson) in to table. He impudently asked Mme. Bonaparte if she had read Basil Hall's book on America, in which he pronounced all Americans vulgarians.

"Yes, Colonel," she answered, "but it did not surprise me in the least. If my compatriots were descended from the Italians or Spaniards, any display of low breeding might astonish me; but, being the direct descendants of Englishmen, it is natural enough that they should be vulgarians."

Cursory.

"Eddie," said the teacher, "can you give a definition of cursory? The word is generally used in connection with public speaking. I have often heard that somebody 'made a few cursory remarks.' Please write a sentence containing the word cursory."

After a brief struggle Eddie evolved this masterpiece: "Yesterday my pa helped my ma to hang pictures, and when the ladder fell after pa had climbed to the top of it he bumped his head against the corner of the dining room table and then made a few cursory remarks."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Cynicisms.

It isn't the knocker who gains admission to our confidence.

Silence isn't always golden. Some times it is an admission of guilt.

Tell a married man he doesn't look it and he will be terribly flattered.

To be considered eccentric, all a woman has to do is to prefer comfort to style.

The clinging nature is often illustrated by the way a man hangs on to his money.

About the easiest thing in the world for some people to make is a break.

Even in fishing for husbands it is generally the big ones that get away.

The world gets a lot more of pleasure out of the calling a bluff than reorganizing the real thing.

Most things are governed by the law of supply and demand, but the crop of fools isn't one of them.

There are men who never bow to the inevitable because they don't recognize it when they see it.

Just because fools and children speak the truth is no reason why they should monopolize the conversation.

Herald Blasts.

You cannot have the ideal life apart from living for ideals.

Christ is never lifted above men by being separated from them.

It is a good thing to undo packages of truth before you fling them at folks.

The church as an end in itself is death; as a tool, is life and salvation.

The man who makes you think of heaven will need no ticket at the gate.

The sickly saints are those who never work their religion out of their systems.

The man who is afraid of hurting the devil's feelings has some of the feelings in his heart.

Reflections of a Bachelor.

Many a man will swear to a thing that he wouldn't bet on.

When pugilists meet they seldom strike each other favorably.

Even the fellow with a pull requires a certain amount of push.

It isn't always failing memory that causes a woman to make a fool of a man than to make a man of a fool.

He who separates a fool from his money is always looking for the "good things" of life.

Don't be a knocker, but on the other hand, don't permit yourself to be some other fellow's anvil.

"No, Maude, dear, the comedian who indulges in a horse play doesn't necessarily play the races."

Wigwag—The trouble with you is you are blind to your own faults. Guzzler—If that is the case let's have an eye-opener.

Money talks, quoted the wise guy. Yes, but if you don't hear it the first time it seldom repeats itself, added the simple mug.

The Language of Printers.

Many people are not aware that printers have a language of their own, unintelligible to the uninitiated. The following up-to-date order from an exchange gives an idea of the printing office "Lingo": "Billy, put Sir Charles Tupper on the galley and finish up that murder you commenced yesterday. Set up the ruins of Herculaneum and distribute the smallpox. Lock up Laurier and slide McCarty into the hell box and leave the pi alone until after dinner. Put the ladies form to press, and go the devil and put him to work on Deacon Fogg's article on "eternal punishment." Now all this is simple enough when translated into English and not nearly so rough as the reader may imagine.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

FOR MAGISTRATE.

I am a candidate for magistrate in the sixth District of Adair county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.
J. M. Willis.

THE SPEAKING MONDAY.

Hon. Elzy Bertram, of Clinton county, candidate to represent the people of the 16th Senatorial district in the next Senate of Kentucky, spoke to a good audience at the Court-house last Monday afternoon. He is a pointed and forcible speaker and was given strict attention throughout. In beginning he stated that he did not want any man to be deceived in voting for him; he knew that if he was elected his election would have to be brought about by Republican votes, as the district was overwhelmingly of that political faith; he wanted the people to know that he was a Democrat, and in Presidential and Congressional races he voted the Democratic ticket. But he believed in being just to all men, irrespective of political affiliations, and that if he was sent to the senate he would not legislate for any particular party, but would work for the interest of the whole people. He stated that more Republicans in the district than Democrats had solicited him, to make the race, and that he did not consider that he was making a political fight, but a fight to represent the interests of the entire people. Mr. Bertram is comparatively a stranger in this county, but he asked that his standing and character in his home county be investigated, and if he was found worthy, then he would be glad if the voters of this county would give him their hearty support, promising that if elected to make a faithful representative. A majority of the audience was Republican, but the speaker was given the closest attention.

When Mr. Bertram concluded Hon. L. T. Neat, the Republican candidate for the same position, took the stand and spoke for about twenty minutes. He stated that he was running as the nominee of his party, reciting his long service in said party, and the part he played in making Adair county Republican by a majority of three hundred and seventy-five. He spoke of other important measures that had become laws by the acts of Republicans, etc., and was proud of his party affiliation. He was mistaken when he said Mr. Bradley had the bill passed, taking the tax off tobacco. Bradley perhaps voted for the bill, but Congressman Stanley of the Second district, a Democrat, had more to do with that bill becoming a law than any other one man.

Mr. Bertram was introduced by Hon. James Garnett. Mr. Neat, being at home, needed no introduction.

President Taft in his campaign speeches stood for an honest and fair revision of the tariff in the interests of the people. In his message to congress and also in his public declarations while congress was convened for the purpose of revision, he called attention to party pledges and clearly indicated that he was firm in his position, but the scene has shifted, the night-mare of promise has passed and the cloak of disguise cast aside. The President signed a bill that revised, but it was not what the people wanted and not for their welfare. He apparently affixed his signature under protest of his judgment and desires, but his late utterance show that the great good of the entire people was not deep rooted. In his address in the middle north-west he defended the Payne-Aldrich measure and claimed it should be accepted by the party. He openly and clearly puts party interests above the country's good. His position is that of a partisan and not a statesman. He held out honest revisions before his election to get the votes and he now defends a high protective measure for party solidarity. The people were fooled before the election and they have been fooled and disappointed since. In our judgment Mr. Taft is the biggest misfit that ever occupied the White House. His position can not be endorsed by any real believer in a high tariff, neither can a genuine revisionist accept his mixture of milk and cider. The condition of the country has not changed, its emergencies still exist and if a revision, downward, was needed before his election it is needed now. If the bill he signed failed to measure up to party pledges and failed to give the full scope of relief and justice he demanded, then it is a failure in that particular now and should not meet his hearty endorsement on the flimsy plea of party solidarity. No party is greater than the country and no real true benefactor of man will so claim. The agricultural interests of the middle west will not be content to put up with a bad and impartial tax law for party solidarity. The great bulk of the people believe that the day for high protection has passed, that there exists no necessity for it and Mr. Taft and his party were under promise to give the people a change.

Since our last issue Mr. Tim B. Cravens has announced for the office of Circuit Court Clerk of Adair county and goes upon the Democratic ballot by petition, the papers having been filed with the County court clerk with more than a sufficiency of names. Mr. Cravens is a son of Mr. Mont Cravens, and is one of the best known young men of Adair county. He has a genial disposition and is popular with every body. For several years he has been doing court work and at this time he is the official Stenographer of the 29th judicial district. He is thoroughly competent for the position and he solicits the votes and influence of the people of the county. It is only four weeks until the election, but within that time he hopes to meet and shake the hand of every friend in Adair county.

Senator Bradley is making speeches in the interest of Mr. Grinstead for Mayor of Louisville. Six months ago he stated that Mr. Grinstead was not eligible for re-election. Did the law change or did Mr. Bradley?

There are some people who think that the only way to get a good education is to go to a college. But the fact is, a good education can be obtained in many ways. One of the best ways is to go to a good school. A good school is one that has good teachers, good equipment, and good facilities. A good school is one that gives its students a good education. A good school is one that gives its students a good education.

Live Hog.

Inquiry last week following a humorous incident shows that nearly 200 girls in the Kansas City high school have never seen a live hog. It had been related that a school girl recently went to the country and seeing a pig run across a yard asked what animal it was. On receiving the information that the scampering beast was a hog, she exclaimed: "Why, it has hair!" This led to an inquiry on the subject and a canvass of all the high school girls in Kansas City showed that some 200 marriageable girls of the second largest live stock market city in the world had never seen a live member of the porcine family.

The October Review or Reviews comes out with a group of striking articles on the discovery of the North Pole. Besides the character sketch of Commander Peary, which while unsigned, is understood to have been written by one who has long enjoyed a close acquaintance with the explorer and an intimate knowledge of his work, there is a popular scientific article on the discovery and its significance of Cyrus C. Adams, the geographer, and these are followed by an extended interview with Dr. Cook reported by W. T. Stead from Copenhagen. These three articles were written exclusively for the Reviews or Reviews during the month of September after the world had been thrilled by the news flashed from the Shetland Islands and from the distant coast of Labrador. The securing and publication of these articles within so short a time is a feat unparalleled in monthly magazine journalism.

Negro Denomination in Louisville.

There is some demagoguery and some sense also in the cry raised by the Democrats in Louisville of negro domination. It is sheer demagoguery if the Democratic politicians mean by negro domination that Louisville is in any danger of being ruled by the black race. This was a threatened danger in some of the Southern States where the negroes outnumbered the whites that the most intense partisan white Republicans moving from New England to the South voted with the Democratic party to avert it. Louisville is in no such danger for the whites out number the blacks three to one. But there is a phase of the question in which the Democrats are entirely right in pointing out as a menace to the city's welfare that there are 12,000 negro voters in the voting as a unit the Republican ticket. This enormous vote in more than half of the entire Republican strength in the city. Republican success would beyond the limits of even a possibility without it. This voting strength which has given the offices in Jefferson county to the Republicans is entitled to the great consideration at their hands. They will be forced in time to divide the offices with them and to cater to their support in various ways. It is both human and natural that they should do so. The negro is not going to continue to vote the Republican ticket out of office when he has strength to demand recognition. It may be said that the present Republican city administration has not recognized the negro in the distribution of "the loaves and fishes." It is true that it has done but little for their black allies, but that does not argue that it will not be done in the future. Every Republican victory makes it more probable that it will be done for the justice of their claims for recognition cannot be disputed.

There is absolutely no danger of negro office holders in any form from a party which does not owe its success to negro votes. A Republican victory in Louisville threatens negroes in office and every victory it wins makes it more dangerous, as they have the votes to demand a fair share of what they win at the polls, while a victory for the Democrats removes from the realm of probability this catastrophe.—E. Town News.

Quit The Polar Scrampling.

Individuals, and sometimes papers, are all too ready to jump into a controversy, take sides and engage in hot-headed dispute who is undignified and harmful. Not only to themselves but to the principles involved. Such discussion never settled a disputed question, in fact it confuses the issue and renders the possibility of a fair and final adjust of the point in controversy more remote than ever. An editorial under the above caption from the Chicago Record-Herald is specially timely and important at this time when all the world is being stirred over the Peary-Cook controversy. The Record-Herald says: "The polar explorer is a fine man—whether he finds the pole or not. Here's to him. We'll warm him up when he comes home to compensate him for all his arctic freezings."

But the polar scrapper is quite another thing—especially the one who makes his base in temperate climes. The kind of heat he supplies is not the kind the polar explorer needs. It reminds one too much of the extraterrestrial antipodes of the absolute zero.

"The sporadic, private-cogwheeled, picayune pin-prick of an individual scrapper the world can't suppress. Free speech extends even to him and nothing can be done but grin and bear him till his voice and his cog wheels both wear out."

"But the threatened organization from one side or another, of polar scrapper, banded not to honor one explorer but to dishonor another, is quite too much of a bad thing."

"We sincerely hope that the dispatches telling of organizations of this contemptible nature are premature. Rather let us hope for organizations to promote an era of good feeling, the southern limit of which will be at least the article circle. Otherwise we Americans can never look an Eskimo in the face again."—Western Publisher.

Fuller reports from the storm-swept territory on the gulf coast show that the damage done by the hurricane was greater than was thought at first. It is now believed that the number of lives lost was over fifty. The railroads are badly handicapped in their efforts to restore schedules and it will be several weeks before trains are running as usual. The property loss will run into the millions.

Nothing Like It Here.

Joseph Leiter, at a dinner in Washington, said earnestly of his approaching European tour: "Where I am going I'll find something that we haven't here, that we'll never have here—namely, hopeless poverty."

Mr. Leiter's seriousness gave place to a lighter mood.

"Why," said he, "the poverty of Europe is so acute that I am credibly informed it is quite a common thing over there for little children, knocking at neighbors' doors, to whine:

"Please, ma'am, mother says will ye lend us somethin' to pawn till pay day evenin'?"

Liver Trouble Remedy Free

Any intelligent person can be his own doctor in the ordinary case of liver trouble, for the symptoms cannot be mistaken. If the white of the eye becomes yellowish, if the skin becomes sallow, if it pimpler and blotchy, if the bowels do not move, if you have sick headache, if you are bilious, you may be sure that your liver is torpid or inactive.

The quickest and surest remedy yet found for the cure of liver trouble or any of its symptoms is Dr. Caldwell's Stryp Purge, the great herb laxative compound. This wonderful remedy is not only a laxative, but a tonic as well. It will start the flow of gastric juices, thereby soon enabling the liver to do its work naturally. A bottle of this great liver remedy will cure any case of liver trouble for 90 cents or $1, and in many cases a single bottle has cured a chronic case.

For example, John W. Lee, 419 S. Pennsylvania ave., Indianapolis, Ind., had a stubborn and very long-standing case of liver trouble, with pimpler blotches, jaundice, etc., and it cured him. Mrs. B. Fincham, Jackson, Ky., says the same of it. Thousands of families keep it in the house against just such an emergency, as you can never tell when some member of the family will need a good laxative.

In order to have you or any other suffer from the liver make a test of Dr. Caldwell's Stryp Purge without personal expense. Dr. Caldwell will send you a free bottle if you will send your name and address. The sample will show you how it works. It will start you on the cure of your trouble and cure you. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. W. Caldwell, 410 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

The Sunset of Life.

Old age is coming on apace, and bringing wrinkles in my face and thinning out my hair, the years have undermined my strength, and bent my stalwart back at length, but, really, I don't care. I found life's morning calm and sweet; I labored in the moonlight's heat—now come the rest and shade. The sun is sinking in the west, but I have always done my best; dusk finds me unafraid. Why should a pilgrim grieve, when he has reached life's quiet eve, with all its clamor past? Why should the wayworn pilgrim wail, who buffeted by storm and gale, a refuge finds at last? If you can say, "I've done my best, while I have been a transient guest in this old tavern here," then may you go with buoyant tired and dauntless spirit to your bed, for there is naught to fear. You've made, no doubt, some grave mistakes; you've left a trail of foolish breaks, but blunders are no sin if you have tried to travel straight, the guardian of the shining gate will bid you enter in. And so the twilight hour is sweet to pilgrims of the weary feet, who westward throngs. They are not children in the dark, appalled by phantoms stern and stark, but lulled by angel songs.

Three men were guillotined at Valence France last week at daybreak for a series of atrocious crimes. The crimes created a reign of terror. No less than twelve murders and 200 robberies are laid at the doors of these men. A great crowd witnessed the executions and applauded wildly every time the knife fell.

Forcing the Tariff Issue.

President Taft's extravagant eulogy of the Payne tariff and his declaration that "party solidarity" must be preserved at whatever sacrifice, destroys the last hope that this country will ever get relief from the robbery of monopoly tariff taxation through the Republican party.

As long as party solidarity is paramount to the fulfillment of party pledges the extreme protectionist will have their way in every Republican Congress and every Republican President will be forced to bow his neck to their yoke. Strong as are the President's inclinations toward a reasonable measure of tariff protection, strong as have been his expressions favoring a margin of protection that would only suffice to cover the difference in cost of production to home and abroad, he has been forced to surrender unconditionally to the radicals of the Aldrich-Cannon faction of his party. Any future Republican President who may favor moderation in tariff taxation will be subjected to the same humiliation.

The President's Winona speech was a slap in the face to the seven Republican Senators and the numerous Republican Representatives who voted against the Payne bill on its final passage. It was an affront to the Republican voters of Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and other Western States, under whose instructions these Senators and Representatives opposed the outrage to the very last.

President Taft has forced the tariff issue between the two great parties to the line from which there is no receding. The "Twilight zone" between the Democratic party and the Republican party on that question has disappeared. By his speech at Winona the official leader and spokesman of the Republican party notified the Republican tariff reformers of the Northwest and the Middle West that his party has nothing for them.

The Democratic party is the only agency through which they can get what they want. The President has destroyed the usefulness of Republican tariff reform delegations in Congress. He has pointed Chairman Lloyd and the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee to the ground on which the great tariff battle of next year is to be fought.—E. Town News.

Font Hill.

Our farmers are still wishing for rain as they can't do any good sowing wheat until it does rain.

Our merchants, Smith Bros., are in the city buying goods for this market.

Diphtheria has about played out this vicinity and we think there will be no more trouble out here.

B. M. Merkle sold a nice bunch of calves to Drewry Wilkerson, of Dunville.

J. H. Smith sold a nice bunch of hogs to a Mr. Simpson, of Somerset. Price not known.

Font Hill Milling Co. are doing quite a nice business this season. They can't hardly keep flour enough to supply their trade.

The spoke factory is doing a good business at this place.

Birthday Dinner.

The birthday dinner at Mr. Simie Roach's last Sunday was largely attended. Mr. Roach went to spend a while with a neighbor and knew nothing of the surprise and in a short time the house was full of neighbors and friends with loaded baskets of nice things to eat. They soon spread the dinner which consisted of turkey, cakes, chickens, pies, preserves and many other things too tedious to mention. The table almost groaned under the weight of luxuries, and at 11 o'clock sent for Mr. Roach and when he came they presented to him several nice presents, then after a few jokes they all ate dinner and spent the rest of the afternoon in song service and prayers conducted by Mr. Curt Roach. Those present were:

Mr. Tom Cole and family, Mr. Huston Roach and wife, Mr. Marshall Roach and family, Mr. Daniel Mooneyham and wife, Mr. Jeff Rose and family, Mrs. John Rose and son, Mr. Charlie Jones and family, Mr. Lee Jones and wife, Mr. John Frodge and family, Miss Nannie Bet Rose, Miss Mandy Scott, Mrs. Patsy Conard and son, Mr. Hermin Roach, Mr. Ernest England, Mr. Ed Reece and Mr. Curt Roach. All report a nice time.

TAKE CARDUI

It Will Help You

Mrs. Katie Burlison, Goreville, Ill., tried Cardui and writes: "I suffered with female troubles, and was so sick I could not stand on my feet. Finally I began to take Cardui, and soon began to mend. Now I am able to do all my housework and am in much better health than I was before." Try it.

Very Valuable Land

The part of the Shreve farm lying next to the Town of Greensburg, Ky., containing 119 and a fraction acres, will be sold on next Monday, October 11, 1909, about 1 o'clock P. M.

at the Court House door in Greensburg, Ky.

This is splendid Blue Grass land, lays well, every acre susceptible of cultivation except about three or four acres. The West end of this land adjoins, on the South, the town limits of Greensburg, Ky., and on the West fronts the Greensburg and Campbellville Pike. The East end contains Fifteen or Twenty Acres of First Bottom, heavily timbered with splendid beech and gum, and the intervening land is in cultivation and pasture. That part of the land lying next to the town—probably Forty or Fifty Acres contains as beautiful sites for residences as can be found in the State of Kentucky, and with the extending of two streets these lots would make most desirable and convenient locations for homes less than a quarter to half a mile from the Court House.

This land would be a splendid investment, for land in this vicinity is rapidly advancing in value, and when the pike now nearly completed to the Adair county line and from there soon to be extended to Columbia, is finished and the Graded School, which was recently voted at Greensburg is inaugurated, the value of this land will be rapidly advanced, and the Truly line of railroad being now agitated from Greensburg to Columbia would further increase the value of this land.

The Greensburg Branch of the L. & N. Railroad runs through this land. Along its track are splendid lots, convenient to never-failing water, for lumber yards, mill sites or manufacturing plants.

If you want a home in a healthy locality, with splendid Graded School, fine moral and religious influence, an excellent business location you can not do better than invest in this land.

The land will be offered in lots of half acres or more and then sold as a whole, on six, twelve and eighteen month time, and the way it brings the most money will be the safe. Remember that this land is being sold under execution by the Master Commissioner of the Green Circuit Court and there is no reservation.

W. F. CANTRELL, Master Com. Green Circuit Court.

Gradyville.

We have had plenty of frost here.

The weather continues dry.

Our farmers are not through sowing wheat yet.

C. O. Moss is attending Conference at Henderson.

Messrs. Clem Keltner and Elmer Keen are in the city this week buying goods for this market.

Miss Dell Mitchell, of Columbia, is assisting Mrs. Hill in the millinery business at this place.

Mr. Thos. Moss, of the Nell community, who has been in bad health for several months, was in our midst last Friday looking better.

Mr. Henry parson is building a new feed barn. Robin Pile is the contractor.

Mr. George Staples, of Columbia, was calling on our merchants last Friday.

Mr. C. H. Yates and his daughter, Mrs. Robertson, spent one day in Columbia last week.

J. H. Smith, one of the largest tobacco growers of this section, sold his crop a few days ago to Walker Bros., of Columbia. We did not learn the price, but we take it that his crop will bring him over $2,500.

Mrs. Maggie Bragg, accompanied by L. C. Hill, spent last Friday and Saturday in Edmon-ton attending the Street Fair.

Several from this place attended the ball game at Greensburg last Saturday.

James Wilmore left for Lexington last Saturday where he will enter school.

Mrs. J. A. Diddle and Mrs. J. D. Walker spent several days in Columbia last week.

Uncle Lee Coomer, one of our oldest citizens, died very suddenly last Saturday night with heart trouble.

Mr. Frank Dohoney, of Milltown community, was in our midst last Friday.

Mr. G. B. Yates, of Joppa, was in our midst last Friday and reported everything moving along nicely in his section.

One of the saddest deaths that has occurred in this community for many years was the little child of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Corbin who suffered death from a burn on the 30th. The child, with one or two other small children, were left in the room alone with only a very little fire in the fireplace. From some means or the fire, the one-year-old baby got into the fire and all its clothing burned off before the flames could be extinguished. Everything that could be done was administered to the little one, but to no avail. Mr. and Mrs. Corbin have the sympathy of this community in this hour of affliction.

Mr. William Compton and family are visiting their relatives at Scottsville this week.

Mr. Willie Hill, who has been on the road selling the wonderful magnetic healer electric belt for the past three months, arrived home last week looking well and fine. Billie says they had a fine business and a good time.

Dr. J. H. Grady, in company with his brother, Thomas L. Grady, spent several days in Brannen county last week visiting relatives.

Mrs. Julia Baker, who visited her relatives in Green county a few days ago, returned to this place last week and will spend several days with her daughter, Mrs. Keltner, before going home.

We are glad to note that Mrs. Rilda Bullington, who has been confined to her room for several days with fever, is improving at this time.

Our old friend, J. Cager Yates, of Bradfordsville, was calling on his many friends in our town last Thursday with a full line of overalls, worth the money.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Moss spent last Monday night visiting the family of William Francis, at Cane Valley.

Mr. William Breeding, one of Adair county's oldest citizens, and who left us eighteen years ago for the Lone Star State, was visiting his relatives at this place last week. Mr. Breeding is wonderfully pleased with Texas. We are glad to know that he has accumulated enough of this world's goods that in his declining days he and his estimable wife can enjoy the blessings of life.

Glenfork.

Mr. Z. L. Samuels who has been in New Mexico the last three months returned home a few days ago. He seems to think the country is O. K. Besides filing on a quarter section, he purchased a large tract of land. He does not intend to make N. M. his home but will return to his possessions next winter for a short stay.

It is understood that L. J. Wilkinson and son have sold their mill to some parties in Russell county.

James, a little son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Vaughan died on the 26th Inst., of diphtheria. The remains were interred at the Reagam burying ground. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. R. Abrell and G. W. Collins.

Dr. Jas. Hammond is again a citizen of this place. He purchased and is occupying the F. H. Rosenbaum property.

Mrs. Clemmie Wells, of Creelsboro is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Taylor, this place.

A little son of William Melson, of Crocus died Sept. 24, of diphtheria.

Mrs. Thessa Dudley who makes her home with her sister, Mrs. Mary Dudley is in a very low state of health.

The school at New Liberty district has been dismissed on account of an epidemic of diphtheria which exists in that district. This is the second time this school has been dismissed by the county board of health within the last year.

Glenfork. No. 2.

Diphtheria is raging in this community, there have been three little ones called away within the last two weeks. Mr. Wm. Antie Mr. Wm. Melson, and Mr. James Vaughan are the surviving families but several others are very low with the above named malady. But weep not dear parents for God said: "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

The typhoid fever cases are all better at this writing.

Sorghum making is the order of the day.

Rev. James Black and wife, of this place are attending conference at Henderson this week.

Mr. Jas. F. Abrell sold to Mr. James Lewis, of Fairplay, a fine Cleveland Bay colt which carried with it both style and beauty. He also bought of Mr. Thye Anderson a fine Peacock colt which stands as proud as ever old Jordan did.

Mr. Zach Samuels who has been on an extended visit to New Mexico has returned home.

Dr. James Hammond has bought property here and is moving in our town once more.

Several from here attended court in Columbia Monday.

Rev. Barger filled his appointment at this place Sunday.

Weed.

The health of this community is not so good at present.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Alice Firquin who has been sick for a week or so is very much improved.
